

School On Retreat Next Week Underclasses Divided In Groups

This year one hundred thirty eight Loyola seniors will make a closed retreat.

Senior retreat begins on Monday, October 5, and ends on Wednesday, October 7. The retreat will be given at two retreat houses, Manresa-on-the Severn and Loyola Retreat House, Faulkner, Md. Seniors may choose the house they wish to attend.

This year will mark the sixth one in which Loyola College Seniors have made a closed retreat. Loyola is the first college to make a retreat at the new Loyola Retreat House.

Underclass Retreat Begins Oct. 6.

Underclassmen will begin their retreat on Tuesday, October 6. This year the underclass retreat will operate on a new system.

Research Grant To Biologists Burke And Wilber

Dr. Charles G. Wilber, professorial lecturer in biology and Fr. Joseph A. Burke, assistant professor in biology here have received a grant for research in psycho-pharmaceuticals from the National Institutes of Health of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The grant totals $22,782 for a two year period.

The project will be basic research on tranquilizers and hallucinogens. Through a study of fish and amphibians, Fr. Burke will investigate the embryological phase of the problem. He will attempt to learn where in the central nervous system these drugs hit and what effect, if any, they have on growth rate and development.

Working with such mammals as white mice and guinea pigs, Dr. Wilber plans to carry out the physiological part of the program, the effect on heart development and function. He will also attempt to find out how these drugs affect animal performance. It is hoped that the results of the project will have important bearing on the understanding and treatment of mental disturbances and nervous disorders.

Preliminaries

The laboratory is being set up in D-15. Fr. Burke did some preliminary work at Woods Hole, Massachusetts this summer and will continue field work there and at the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory at Solomons, Maryland.

Lysergic acid will be one of the principal drugs tests. It has the effect of producing a state comparable to the psychic disorder of schizophrenia.

The juniors and sophomores will be divided into five groups. (three groups of juniors and two groups of sophomores) Each group will number from fifty to sixty.

Each group will have its own retreat master. The priests will be from the Loyola College faculty. They include: Fr. John J. Scanlan, Fr. Thomas J. Higgins, Fr. Henry St. C. Lavin, Fr. Joseph A. Burke, and Fr. Gerard J. Campbell.

The freshman retreat will be given in Colin Hall. Fr. Eugene Linehan, S. J. of Woodstock College will conduct the retreat. Fr. Linehan is teacher of Sacred Rhetoric at Woodstock.

According to Fr. Knott, student counselor, the purpose behind this renovation is "to make the retreat more personal." He is hopeful that much will be gained through this type of retreat. He emphasized, however, that the best way to make a retreat is to make a closed one. Since this is not possible, it is believed that a more personal contact will help the students realize the importance of this retreat.

Non-Catholic students of the college will attend a series of talks on the philosophy of life, given by Fr. James J. Conlin. On Friday, October 9, the entire student body will attend the Mass of the Holy Ghost to pray for wisdom and strength during the school year.

Rugby, Dance This Weekend

Dominating the social scene this weekend will be the joint activities of the freshman and sophomore classes. The Rugby Game and the Freshman Welcome Dance, on October second and third respectively.

Sponsored by the sophomore class, the Freshman welcome Dance is the first major social event of the school year. This year there will be two musical groups performing in the gymnasium for this affair. Reds Popoli will supply the dance music and The Swingin' Affairs, a vocal trio, will also entertain.

The dance will last from 9 P.M. to 1 A.M., admission is $3.50 per couple. Bill Iampieri, Sophomore Class President is general chairman of the dance.

The Game

General chaos is the usual description of The Rugby Game, which will be held this year on Friday afternoon. Traditionally the end of freshman initiation to campus life, it pits the freshmen against the sophomores in a free-for-all football contest. Pup-caps are required for all freshman participants and no deadly weapons are allowed.

Dean Makes Yearbook Must For All Students

THE FOLLOWING IS AN EXCERPT FROM AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT OF THE EDITORS OF THE EVERGREEN OF 1960:

"Beginning this year the purchase of the Evergreen Annual, Loyola's official yearbook, will be compulsory for all full-time undergraduate day school students. This new program is one that is felt will improve the Yearbook, save the student money, improve the interest of student body in the school, and benefit the students themselves.

New Dean Of Men Has Local Roots

A new figure has arrived on the Evergreen campus this year. He is our new Dean of Men, Rev. Frank C. Bourbon.

A native of West Arlington, Virginia, Father Bourbon began his Jesuit "training" as a student of Loyola High School from which he graduated in 1914. He then entered the Jesuits.

Father has no immediate change of routine for the students since he wishes first to absorb the tone of the college. "Cooperation with the rules already in force", he says, "is the best means of a peaceful flow of activity. The faculty and students should not be, and are not, at war. For it takes an awful lot of family spirit to make a small school work."

Fr. Frank C. Bourbon

The Yearbook in the past has been a strictly Senior Class effort, with no budget allotment from the school activities fund. Therefore, each student, upon entering his fourth year at Loyola, has been faced with the burden of paying $20-$30 to finance the production of the Annual. This cost has always hit the senior at a time when other financial placers (e.g. graduation) have made their marks. This new program, drafted by the Student Council and approved by the Faculty Administration, sets the compulsory fee at $6 per student over a four year span. This also allows the student the benefit of a more complete record of the most productive years of his life, his college years.

"In the initial year, the assessment will be $6 per student in the sophomore, and junior years, and $10 per senior. In following years the price will be the same for all students."

THE DEAN'S OFFICE HAS INFORMED THE STUDENT COUNCIL AND, THROUGH IT, THE STUDENT BODY THAT THIS IS TO BE ISSUED BY THE TREASURER, MUST BE PAID BEFORE SEMESTER EXAMINATIONS OR ELSE TAKEN AS A DEDUCTION FROM THE AMOUNTS SHALL NOT BE

Support Takes

Following recommendations of the mathematics committee of the Loyola College Study of Admission with Advanced Standing, the college has announced a course for high school students to obtain advanced standing when they enter college.

Conducted through the Evening College, the course began during the summer session and will continue during the regular semester on Saturday morning. The course includes analytic geometry and introduction to calculus.

Alumni Recognition

"Views and Viewpoints", a packet of cards telling the Loyola College story in a unique combination of words and sketches, has received special recognition from the American Alumni Council in its annual competition for direct mail campaign.

The certificate of award was accepted by Bill LeFevre, Alumni Executive Secretary and Director of Public Relations for the College. Specifically the citation was awarded for "significant achievement in the use of direct mail to promote capital gifts."

Returning students were greeted by the sight of the Student Union Building in its final stage of construction. Opening date is expected in November.

Editorials

Friday, First First

Up to February 1959, attendance at First Friday Mass was compulsory for all Catholics students at Loyola. At that time the Dean of Studies approved a voluntary attendance system. Objection had been made that the former system of collecting attendance slips was detrimental to the spirit of First Friday devotions and should be abolished. This in effect was the new system approved.

Since the point of objection was the collection of attendance slips at First Friday Mass, the Dean, Fr. Robert Hoggson, set up a three semester test period which ends June 1960. The condition here would be no significant drop in attendance and if so this system would become permanent. If a significant decrease (35% of Catholic students) occurred for three months running, the test would be considered a failure and the earlier method reinstated.

The upper classes must remember the irritation caused by the old system and should be willing to support this test period. The freshmen should be willing to support this new system as it will affect them most, if the test is considered a failure. Here is Loyola's first big system and it should not be neglected. More important is the fact that this has to deal with the spiritual realm and should be held much more reverently.

Most Catholics support the First Friday devotions and it is merely the point of attending there on campus rather than at your parish church or elsewhere.

On Compulsory Yearbook

In past years at Loyola the Yearbook has been notorious for insolvency. This was because of a vicious circle. It was classed as a senior project by the school activities fund. The seniors were responsible for the burden of producing and financing this little or no recognition to the underclasses lost interest in the yearbook and would not support it. And so into bankruptcy or

This year, the yearbook will be a compulsory purchase for all students at Loyola and the staff will give the staff an insured budget. Since it is no longer a senior project, the underclassmen will be more responsible for the burden of coverage of underclass activities will be greatly extended. This should break the downward spiral in which the former yearbooks were caught.

Compulsory purchase is not unprecedented at other campuses and no strong resentment should be felt. The recommendation for this procedure came from the Student Council and was not originated by the school administration.

This is a good move to improve the quality of the yearbook, for by assuring a substantial budget and a wide circulation the staff should be spurred on to do a better job.

Nothing is all good or all bad, and though we feel this is another backward step in regimentation, the prospect of having a really outstanding yearbook and a solvent one is compensatory.

Greyhound Salutes: Thomas F. Dwyer

by John W. Glenn

This writer has known the subject of this salute for nearly eight years, and I am of the opinion that the student body could not have possibly made a better choice for its Student Council President. It seems that Thomas Francis Dwyer has made a specialty of taking part in just about every extra-curricular activity that he was able to, and thereby has shown his zeal in advancing the prestige of Loyola College. I will attempt to mention just a few of these activities in which he has taken part:

Tom is the President of the Debating Society this year while also holding down the job as Yearbook Business Manager. He won the Jenkins Prize Debate Medal in his sophomore year and twice was chosen as Loyola's delegate to the annual N.F.C.C.S. convention. He was Editor of the Greyhound for one semester in Sophomore year and the beginning of Junior year. He was Editor of last year's Freshman Orientation Handbook and has played soccer and lacrosse for two years. Tom has also been a member of the Sodality and Radio Club and still is an active member of the Physics Club. To cap off these associations, Tom was elected as President of the Student Council at the end of Junior year by the student body.

Background

At present, Tom is 21 years old and is a graduate of Loyola High School, class of 1956. During grammar school days he attended Cathedral School. While at high school, Tom was in the Sodality, the Radio Club, the Debating Society and on the hockey team.

Filing Date For Fulbright Awards

Only one month remains to apply for some 900 Fulbright scholarships for study or research in 28 countries. The Institute of International Education reminds prospective applicants that they must file by November first.

Inter-American Cultural Convention awards for study in 17 Latin American countries have the same filing date.

Recipients of Fulbright awards will receive tuition, maintenance and round trip travel. IACC scholarships cover transportation, tuition and partial maintenance. IIE administers both of these student programs for the U.S. Department of State.

Eligibility

General eligibility requirements for both categories of awards are: 1) U.S. citizenship at time of Application; 2) a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by 1960; 3) knowledge of the language of the host country and 4) good health. A demonstrated capacity for independent study and good academic record are also necessary.

Mr. Morgan Pritchett Instructor in German, is campus representative for the Fulbright program. Completed applications must be submitted by November first.

Tom received a scholarship to Loyola and is enrolled in the Physics-Engineering course. In his first three years here, he has cashed in his talents to the tune of remaining in the top ten in his class.

As for the future, Tom plans on Graduate School, but at present he is not sure where (attention: Grad. Schools). And as a closing note, Tom is not tangled up with any of the opposite sex (Attention all females). It should also be noted that he very infrequently indulges in the beverages of Bacchus, or in smoking (attention: W.C.T.U.*).

the Watchdog

By John Quinn

Well kiddies, did you have a nice vacation? Are you having trouble restraining yourselves from launching into a series of reports, term papers, and other assorted studious tasks? Of course, you are. If by chance you should become discouraged; if at times you seem to have bitten off more than you can chew; if the dean looks at you and laughs, just remember, the guy next to you doesn't know what he's doing either. And besides, don't forget Maryland is Co-Educational. Won't that be nice?

If by chance there are any members of the Freshman class who possess some literary talent, we await your arrival with bated breath, as it has always been our sincerest desire to meet someone with talent. So if you can tear yourself away from Joe's wonderful culinary treats, come in and someone will be more than glad to read your contribution to the great minds of this institution.

Fortunately, everything on the campus is fairly normal as usual

Seniors interested in graduate work as a preparation for college teaching are eligible for 1,000 fellowships in the humanities and social and natural sciences offered by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

Students, who receive a Wilson Fellowship, will be paid $1500 plus tuition and dependency allowance for a year of graduate study at a University of their choice in the United States or Canada. Fellowships will be held over for those who must perform military duty before entering graduate school.

Candidates may not file applications directly, but will be sent application forms after personal nomination by a member of the faculty. Any student expecting to graduate in the spring of 1960 may learn more of the details of the Fellowship by consulting the departmental chairman in his major field, or the local representative of the Foundation, Professor Charles Hands of the Department of English.

Deadline

The deadline for receiving nominations for the 1960 Fellowships is October 31, 1959. The program does not award fellowships for graduate work in law, medicine, education, business administration or engineering. Only those having a sincere interest in college teaching will be considered.

whipping into shape for its first game with a furious training schedule — two days. I have a report from Richard Skinner of Washington College, that he is personally going to drive our champs insane. John Healy, Junior Class President, is doing a great job of organizing five hundred members into some sort of new club.

Dick Prodey is president of a new activity this year called Mrs. Prodey. I hear rumors that there are chances of a little addition to this fine organization.

Another rumor, Mac may have full time help in his campus shop.

There are two additions to the student body who for some reason look better than any of the usual run of the mill students. My eyes may be deceiving me, but I believe they are female. At long last, the faculty has finally made a move to which I can safely say, there will be no opposition from the scholars of this school of learning.

The rifle team is struggling to reach fighting strength. The boys up on the field believe it or not, look sharp; there is a life guard in the pool occasionally; things for the music club look bright; the year book staff list is being prepared, and all in all, and in all sincerity it looks like a good year,

Col. Kadick, PMS&T Back From White House

Lt. Colonel Mische Kadick, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, has returned to Loyola following eight months of duty in the Executive Offices of the White House with the President's Committee to study the U.S. Military Assistance Program.

The President's Committee, known after its chairman as the Draper Committee, was composed of distinguished Americans appointed by President Dwight D. Eisenhower to evaluate the United States' Military, Economic and other aid programs on a non-partisan basis and to recommend the most suitable means to insure the Free World's defenses.

European Group

Early in its work, the committee formed into sub-committees and visited all of the areas and most of the countries where there were important U.S. military or economic programs. Colonel Kadick traveled with the group in Europe.

In a letter to the Chief of Staff of the Army commending Col. Kadick's contribution, Mr. Draper stated in part:

"Ours has been a very complicated task and Lt. Col. Kadick's highly competent staff work, combined with his broad knowledge which extends beyond the military into political, economic and administrative matters, have made a significant contribution. He was one of the primary architects of our Report on the Organization and Administration of the Military Assistance Program working closely thereon under General McNamara."

Copies of the Draper Committee reports to the President are available in the Loyola Library.

English Dept. Gets New Head, Doctor

Rev. Henry St. C. Lavin, S. J., has been appointed Chairman of the Department of English replacing Mr. Francis L. Christ, who was acting Chairman.

A native of New Jersey, Father Lavin came to Loyola from Fordham University in 1958 after completing the requirements for the Ph.D. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Loyola University, Chicago, where he also obtained his Master's degree in Classics. He previously taught at St. Joseph's High School and College in Philadelphia.

Assistant Professor Charles B. Hands, also of the English Department, recently received his doctorate from Notre Dame University. Born in Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania, Dr. Hands received his A.B. at Notre Dame and his master's degree in English at the University of Pennsylvania. He joined the faculty in 1957.

ROTC Has New Look In Uniforms, Drill

ROTC summer camp was on the agenda this year for 25 juniors and 7 1959 graduates of Loyola. As part of their commissioning requirements and in order to gain practical experience, the 32 cadets spent four weeks at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland and 2 weeks at Camp A.P. Hill, Virginia.

The Cadets spent their first week at Ft. Meade on the rifle range where they fired the M-1 rifle for qualification and worked in the target pits. The second and third weeks they practiced squad, platoon and company tactics.

A.P. Hill

At the end of the third week, the entire group entrained for Camp A.P. Hill where they lived in pup tents for two weeks and participated in maneuvers with units of the Regular Army.

The last week of summer camp was at Fort Meade in a familiarization course with the various Army branches.

Captain Jerry Frydendall led the cadre personnel from Loyola who were assigned to the 1959 camp. The cadre was pleased with Loyola's seventh place finish in a camp of cadets from 21 colleges and universities.

Summer on Campus

During the summer a skeleton staff was on duty here in the ROTC department. Captain Lawrence and Master Sergeants McLaughlin and Umphlett with Sergeant First Class Cloutier handled any administrative problems that occurred during the summer. Their biggest job was turning in the old OD uniforms and requisitioning the new Army green uniforms which are now being worn by all Loyola cadets.

Under administrative changes made this summer, merits and demerits will no longer be applied to a cadet's final grade but to his drill marks.

On the drill field the Loyola ROTC is now organized under the new pentomic division as a brigade. The commander is Cadet Colonel Michael F. Spigelmire. The brigade is then divided into two battle groups of three companies each. Cadet Lt. Col. Michael Schmidtman is commander of the first group and commanding Companies A, B and C respectively are Cadet Captains Michael McDonough, Paul Dill and Neil McGinn. In the second group Cadet Lt. Col. Richard Pyle is commanding and company commanders are Cadet Capt. Edgar Zepp, Louis Santoni and Joseph Bowers.

On The Road, Or Pilgrims Progress

by The Editor

Keeping three jumps ahead of our creditors, the Greyhound has again moved its offices. Anyone who looks for us in our former den, D-15, will find the space filling up with scientific equipment, frog eggs, guinea pigs, Fr. Burke and Dr. Wilber. They are not the new Greyhound staff.

The Greyhound has been temporarily exiled to Millbrook House along with the modern language departments and the Public Relations Office. It was felt that we would feel at home with them.

We now have offices overlooking the athletic field instead of underlooking it. When the Student Union Building is complete we will again have to look up to ground level for our offices will be in the basement.

This is the fourth office that the Greyhound has occupied since we joined the staff in 1956. First the office was S-100 (the present Dean of Men's office), second D-16 (When last heard hang-out of the Student Council, Debating Society, TKA and the Quarterly), then D-15 and now M25. We sometimes feel as lepers do.

Our furniture has been in more offices than a college student looking for a job. No other organization can make that statement.

Intramurals

All students are invited to swim. You are requested to give your name to Nap Doherty in the gym office and he in turn will give it to your class coach. The events you will enter shall be decided later. The Swimming Intramurals consists of the four classes.

Last year the Freshmen splashed to an overwhelming victory over the upperclassmen.

Three all-time intramural swimming records were broken.

Jim Sydnor swam the 50 yard Breaststroke in 33.1 seconds breaking the old record of 34.2 set by Ned Callahan in 1954.

The 50 yard Backstroke record was also smashed when Mike Ennis splashed over the water in 35.5 seconds. Don Smith held the best previous record of 36.2 in 1953.

Dick Wheeler's record fell in the 25 yard freestyle when Brian Flannery set a pool record with a 22.2 clocking. Wheeler's time of 2.8 was set in 1953.

GREYHOUND SPORTS

By BILL LOHNES
Greyhound Sports Editor

Aloysius C. Galvin, S. J. is the name on the stationery, but the inscription below the picture in Athletic Director Reitz's office reads, "Wish Galvin Forward, Mason-Dixon Champions, 1946-47."

Father Galvin, whom we all know as our current Dean of Studies, was a basketballer for the Hounds prior to and after World War II. The interesting part about his hardwood career, however, was that he also performed for arch-rival Mount Saint Mary's, and sparked a win over the Green and Gray as well.

After completing two years at Loyola, Father Galvin went into the service. At that time the V-12 plan, which sent promising personnel to college, was in effect, and Father Galvin was sent to the mountains of Emmitsburg, where he, promptly, resumed his court activities.

In the final minute of the Hound-Mount game, Wish swished with a set-shot and layup to set the stage for the winning basket by another former Hound, also on the V12.

Following a tour of active duty and the end of the war, Father Galvin returned to Evergreen, where his strong defensive play helped the Hounds to the '46-'47 conference title.

GYM JOTS. The old swimming hole under the gymnasium has taken a turn for the better with the addition of large modern glass-brick windows and new lighting fixtures, which not only add to the appearance of the pool, but should also make swimming meets more attractive to spectators. . . . Another improvement is in the locker room area. The student lockers, not many of which were used anyhow, have been reduced in number and moved to a smaller area, while the space which they formerly occupied has been converted into a roomy team locker area. . . . What was formerly the rec room in the gym, will be converted into a wrestling room and exercise room with wall pullies, rowing machines, and the like. Recreational facilities will be provided in the new building.

TANK TALK. — Swimming practice began Monday with light running and limbering up exercises. Natator coach Bill Klarner conceived the idea of outdoor workouts last season. According to Klarner, "the squad was in excellent shape when it came time to begin water practice, the workouts being particularly helpful to the butterfly men."

Intramural Items

By MATT SCHWIENIECK

Football intramural play will begin Monday, October 5. Deadline for entries is September 30. This is a double elimination touch football tournament.

Last year the Junior Vets defeated the Senior Ramblers for the championship on the brilliant passing and pass catching of Perry and Twardowicz.

Pre season favorites are the Vets and Smirnoffs, both Senior teams.

Freshmen teams are welcomed to enter, although it is hoped they can play football better than they can salute an R. O. T. C. Officer.

After the entries have been briefed schedules of the games will be posted on the Gym Bulletin Board as well as the Intramural Board opposite the bookstore.

Wednesday, September 30 is the starting for the single elimination tennis singles tournament.

Senior Pat Cullen is again favored to win the tennis title although he will get tough competition from Ed Paul and Tom Dwyer.

The 1959 Intramural Swimming Tournament will be held on Thursday, October 15 in our aquarium.

Charlie Sullivan and Wade Bowman limber up before practice. Soccer season opens tomorrow at College Park.

McElroy Faces Problem; X-Country Season Opens

By LAWRENCE R. STRUM

Loyola's Cross-Country team appears to be headed toward another successful season. Although coach Bill McElroy is faced with the task of replacing last year's number three runner, Ken Billeb he still has most of last year's undefeated squad returning.

Last year the Hounds swept all five dual meets, the Loyola Invitational and finished fourth in the Mason-Dixon Tournament.

Senior Paul Sherman, who will captain the team this year, was the outstanding runner on last year's team. He finished first in three of the five dual meets, first in the Loyola Invitational and fifth in the Mason-Dixon Tournament.

Stack Burton, last year's number two runner will be around to back up Sherman. Burton, who is also a senior, never ran any Cross-Country before coming to Loyola, but he has been a great asset to Loyola's Harriers since his freshman year. He finished tenth in the Mason-Dixon Tournament.

Sophomores Lew Smith and Mike Abramatis, who finished seventeenth and forty-ninth respectively in the Mason Dixon, are being counted on heavily by Coach McElroy to bolster the squad. The other returning letterman are Ken Donohue and Mike Leidner.

In addition to the above, coach McElroy has the largest turnout for the squad in the history of the school. Sophomore candidates for the team are Tom Dunphy, who has prior experience on the Loyola team, Ham Duggan, and George Yurek. Freshman prospects include Reggie Wise from St Joe, who was last year's M.S.A. quarter mile champ, Mike Burton from Loyola, Stack's brother, and Joe McGraw from Hereford.

The Hounds will open their season on October 9th at Galludet College at 3 P.M. Their first home meet will be with Catholic U. on October 30th, at 3 .M.

Hound Booters Open Friday vs. Maryland

By BOB REITER
Asst Sports Editor

The soccer team opens the 1959 Loyola College athletic program this Friday with a non-league encounter against the University of Maryland at College Park. Game time is 3:00 P.M.

Captained by its 1958 All Conference member, lineman Jerry Beek, the Hound booters will be out to better last years record of 2-6-2.

Graduation took only three of last years starters, but these three, Goalies Paul OlPino, center halfback Will Hartman, and lineman Moon Mullen, played crucial parts, and replacement will be difficult.

Coach Tommy Lind has four returning lettermen starting on the front line. Beek, Bucky Effinger, Bill Knoche, and Jim Kennedy, a former fullback, are being counted on to add a much needed scoring punch to a low scoring Hound attack. The fifth starter will probably be freshman Joe Kociorelc.

Veterans Tom Schultz and Tom Jones will man two of the three halfback posts. Soph Charlie Graham and freshman Dennis Ray will get a shot at the remaining position.

The only sure starter at fullback is three year veteran Wade Bowman. The other starter will come from either veteran Ed Zepp, or freshman Dick Cambell.

Don Wallenhorst a freshman from St. Joe was All Maryland goalie last year. He will probably man the nets.

Coach Lind will be counting on freshmen to add reserve strength, and the Hound mentor feels he has some good ones. Among them are Harold Lauher, Carl Manfre from Calvert Hall, and Jorge Ordinez from Panama, Central America, Charlie Sullivan and Peter Powley also will be in reserve.

"We have a tough schedule," says Lind, "but I think we're going to do all right. We have a good starting team, and if our freshmen come through we should improve on last years record."
